Council Prepares To Annex Christen Lands

Start On $50 Million Fairmont Project Now Slated For Early Oct.

Doelger Inc., Pacifica Near Agreement On Firehouse, Community Center, Gifts

Actual construction on the new $50,000,000 Fairmont Planned Community projected by the Henry Doelger corporation is expected to get underway on a 456 acre site immediately south of Daly City about the first week in October.

This statement, based on the expectation that permits sought from the Pacifica City Council and Pacifica Planning Commission would be forthcoming after a hearing scheduled Sept. 13, was made this week by B. Poncetta, vice-president of Henry Doelger Inc.

The Fairmont project will provide a seven and one-half acre shopping center, 1,500 single residence homesites and 200 apartment dwellings, according to plans on the drawing boards.

In addition, the Doelger company has set aside 30 acres of semi-park green belt, sites for three elementary schools, and acreage for a Fairmont firehouse and Fairmont Community center.

Doelger has also offered the City of Pacifica $100,000 for construction of the aforementioned buildings and tree plantings. The City of Pacifica is seeking a $135,000 contribution for this purpose.

It has been pointed out, however, by Doelger representatives, that the land Doelger offers to deed to the city for municipal or public purposes has a value in excess of $160,000 when 16 buildable acres of the green belt is taken into consideration.

AGREEMENT CLOSE

It was also pointed out by interested parties on both sides—Doelger Inc. and City of Pacifica—that they were within a few thousand dollars of reaching an agreement on all matters pertaining to the issuing of a go-ahead signal by the Pacifica officials.

At a recent hearing held at the Pacifica City Hall, John Ferrari, attorney for the Doelger interests, brought up the higher expense of sewage and water connections involved in the Fairmont project.

He said that sewage connection charges for 1,500 homes in the new development would be $173,763 in excess of the same charges in Daly City, South San Francisco or San Bruno. He also stated that water connection charges would be $306,733 above the average.

Daly City Wife Takes Issue In Beard Argument

Perhaps this is that famous last word that the female of the species usually has in any argument but then again it may be merely the second word in an "itthy" controversy. At any rate here it is:

"Dear Editor:—I think Mr. Pacelli made a mistake in his letter which appeared in last week's Record.

"He wrote that the housewives had a campaign to rid the men of their beards, but he should have first consulted some of us.

"My husband is George DeBono, a fireman at Central station, who has a neat, well kept, different beard.

"He has received a lot of ribbing and joking about it but I haven't said one word against it, either to him or to the 'ribbers'.

"Most of the other firemen who shaved their beards off did so because the heat was too much on their faces. I don't really think their wives can be blamed.

"Maybe, deep down, you men had to blame someone and the poor housewives were the best bet so you wouldn't lose face."

Viola DeBono (Mrs. George)

Golden Jubilee Fireworks Show Gets Council OK

Daly City's Golden Anniversary Committee was granted a special permit from the City Council Monday night to hold a fireworks display in the city during the 50th Anniversary Celebration in October.

The event will be held on Saturday, October 7, from 8:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on the hill overlooking Hillside boulevard.

Councilman Frank Pacelli, who is executive chairman of the committee, said that the display would be "quite a spectacle," and would offer many different types of fireworks displays.

In other actions, the council: Continued a public hearing on the $75 Lot Homestead Association No. 6A annexation, consisting of four lots on 8th avenue.

Adopted a resolution approving the vacating of a portion of Market street and Atlanta street, restoring the property to private ownership.

Adopted a resolution accepting completion of resurfacing streets project, which consists of work done on eight or nine streets lying between Junipero Serra boulevard and Mission street.

Accepted a deed of easement within Southern Hills No. 2A (Panorama Subdivision), northeast of the city, for the laying of a fire alarm line.

Sharp Park Woman Hit By Auto, Only Bruised And Cut

Hurled to the pavement when struck by an automobile as she attempted to cross the Coast Highway about 8:40 p.m., Monday night Mrs. Joan Parment, 46, 336 Moana Way, Sharp Park, escaped with only what appeared to be minor injuries.

Mrs. Parment was hit by an auto driven by Martin L. Manmen, 1089 Crespi Dr., Pedro Valley, as she started across the highway at Pacific Ave., in Sharp Park.

Manmen told investigating California Highway Patrolmen.

JUHS Must Carry Insurance On Game-Connected Students

Trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District Friday night were informed that effective as of September 15, the district must carry up to $3000 in insurance coverage on all its students connected with games, so far as the transportation of them is concerned.

Dr. Byron C. Curry, deputy county superintendent of schools, informed the board by letter of the compulsory law for districts to carry on "game connected" students.

The State legislature in its last session passed a law requiring all school districts to carry such insurance on "game connected" persons, with the insurable amount mandated at $1,500 accidental death, and $1,500 medical and hospital insurance.

The law defines those "game connected" persons as the team members, yell leaders, band, rosters, and pom-pom girls.

This particular insurance does not cover a student who might be injured in the bleachers or a team member injured on the field, but in the transportation only of those "game connected" people, Dist. Supt. Edward Morgan said.

The term transportation does not refer only to out-of-the-city games, but also transporting to

CIVIC BANQUET HONORING FORMER CITY OFFICIALS TO PRECEDE CELEBRATION

Former mayors and councilmen of Daly City will be honored at a civic banquet to be held at the city's War Memorial Community Center, Sept. 30, at 7:30 p.m. It will be preceded by a cocktail hour. It is the first major function scheduled in the city's Golden Anniversary which will be celebrated October 7-14.

In recognition of their contributions to the city's dynamic growth and development, the former officials will be presented with specially prepared plaques.

John Putkey, chairman, and Jack Kendree, co-chairman, said more than 400 persons, including public officials and civic leaders from throughout the Bay Area are expected to attend.

Woman Fell From Window; Did Not Jump

Final investigation by police and the coroner's office states that Katherine Donely, of 1258 Brunswick street, did not die recently from results of jumping from her bedroom window, but that she apparently fell out of the window, landing some 20 feet below.

This newspaper regrets the error contained in an earlier story, which was taken from first reports of the police department.

Results Of Freeway Speed, Say Cops

IT'LL COST PLENTY when Roy W. Corner, 269 Rome street, San Francisco, comes before a judge for driving too fast on the Alemany Freeway where he crashed his auto, bearing license No. CKA-008 head-on into a reinforced concrete city light standard about 1 a.m. Friday morning. The crash occurred at Alemany and Chestnut street, Daly City police were called out on the accident. However, they turned it over to San Francisco police accident bureau investigators when it developed the crash scene was over the boundary line in San Francisco. Police cited Corner, who escaped with a bruised head, for driving too fast. He'll probably have to pay for a new light standard, they said.

Young Husband Slays Wife, Shoots Self With Hunting Rifle

Murder and suicide over apparent marital difficulties was the entry written in black on the records of the San Mateo County coroner's office this week following an autopsy into the deaths of Yvonne Carmen Holland, 21-year-old Daly City mother, and her husband, Claude W. Holland, 28, a San Francisco Post Office supervisor.

The victims were found in and beside the family car parked on a lonesome road near the Chinese Cemetery in Colma on Friday by two youthful hitch-hikers from Pacifica.

The woman, Yvonne, was slumped in the front seat of the auto and the body of her husband, Claude, lay on the ground in the roadway near the open door to the driver's seat. A 30-30 deer rifle and an expended cartridge case lay beside him.

The bullet that killed the youthful wife entered her left cheek while the one that killed her husband apparently was fired into his mouth and blew off the top of his head, according to the coroner's report.

No Immediate Plans For Developing Land; Over 600 Acres To City

The City Council Monday night initiated the first steps to a possible annexation of the Christen property, a prize catch of more than 600 acres, in a bid for continued and growing expansion for this city.

The council formally received a petition from the Christens requesting annexation to the city.

Mayor Robert B. St. Clair, in turn, called for a study by all city departments and report back to the council at a later date. This report is to determine just how much and/or what exact area the Christens wish to have brought into the city. At this point, it appears the Christens desire to have the entire acreage brought in.

The land, which forms an irregular shape, with other property zig-zagging in and out of it, is bounded by Daly City, Colma, Pacifica, Skyline boulevard, and part of South San Francisco (Winston Manor).

The land is uninhabited at this time, and is used as grazing land for cattle.

The petition for annexation was signed by Harry C. Christen, William D. Christen, and Henry J. Budde, executor for the estate of Louisa Budde.

Mayor St. Clair hailed the annexation request as "a big step in the right direction as far as broadening out the potential of Daly City."

What plans for developing this vast area are not known to city officials at this time, if there are any immediate plans. City Manager Edward Frank said he personally knows of "no outside interests" seriously considering purchase of the property, and that the property will come into the city with agricultural zoning.

Once in the city, just how long the property would remain as such is anyone's guess. Eventual development either as an industrial park, or more than likely as a vast housing development, is a strong possibility, being ideally situated for either.

If developed as a subdivision, the property has the potential of augmenting the city's population by 20,000 persons more or less, allowing for street patterns, school sites, etc., according to City Attorney Paul Hupf.

Hupf based his remarks on the fact that Westlake, which now boasts a population of

Judge Overrules Klein Stand On Ivy Grass Case

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Klein, of 97 Lake Forest drive, have been given until Sept. 15 by Judge Joseph A. Branson of San Mateo County Superior Court, to answer the complaint made against them by the Westlake Subdivision Improvement Association, charging violation of landscaping restrictions.

An attorney for the Kleins has argued that the association did not have sufficient evidence to cause action.

Judge Branson heard arguments on May 29, and then took the matter under consideration before passing a ruling. Judge Branson earlier this month overruled the Kleins' argument, giving them 30 days to answer the association's charges.

The association charged them with violating landscaping restrictions established by the homeowners' group and with refusing to comply with the association's repeated requests to rectify the violation.

When the Kleins moved into their Westlake home, they allegedly decided that they did not like the grass that was already planted as a lawn, and tore it out, and replanted it with Ivy grass and various

Wide Search On For Pair With Big Haul From Airport Bank

Gunmen Terrorized Kidnap Victims, Tellers, Raked Up $10,000 In Cash...

The hills of Northern San Mateo County and possible hideouts in the cities of South San Francisco, Daly City, San Bruno and others were being combed by sheriff's officers and police at press time in a search for two gunmen who staged a daring $10,000 holdup at the International Airport Bank of America branch Monday noon.

In the belief that the gunmen may have had a nearby hideout prepared, officers of the entire area were alerted to be on the lookout for the pair, one tall, slim, with a pencil-line moustache and the other short, stocky, clean-shaven with a crew cut. Both were believed to be wearing pork-pie hats.

In addition, pictures from sketches of the two men were being broadcast to police, FBI officers and sheriffs of 11 western states.

Although the investigating sheriff's officers and FBI were without a single clue Wednesday, Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore labeled the gunmen's successful holdup "the work of amateurs. If they're not caught on this one they'll probably pull another and get it then."

The smooth-operating, tough-talking, pair of gunmen, who terrorized their kidnap victims and the tellers and customers in the airport branch of the bank, held one man captive for almost three hours and used a second one as a shield to force the bank employees to obey their commands.

They made their escape from the bank in the car they hijacked from their captive, whom earlier they had locked in the auto's trunk.

Under orders of teller Richard A. Nelson, 21, 320 - 27th avenue, San Mateo, forced from him by a menacing revolver at his neck, other tellers at work in the bank and several customers promptly flocked to the floor. One of the gunmen then hurled the barrier and swept all paper money in the tellers' cages into a waste basket while his companion kept the victims covered with a sawed-off shotgun.

The big payoff saga began about 10:30 a.m. when William N. Hartauer, 45 Martens street, San Rafael, was forced from his car by the tall, slim gunman, who threatened him with a .38 calibre revolver. Hartauer was blindfolded and locked in the trunk of his own auto.

The bandits then hijacked

Elementary Schools Open September 11

Nineteen elementary schools will throw open their doors to some 8,700 students in grades kindergarten through eight on Monday, September 11, announces Dr. Vinton Stratton, assistant superintendent, educational services.

Parents are requested to register their children, if they have not already done so, on Friday, September 8, between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Newly-registered kindergarten and first-grade children, according to state law, must have verification of their birth date in the form of a baptismal or birth certificate, birth registration receipt, or federal hospital certificate.

Registration will be held at all schools, listed as follows: Abraham Lincoln, 1267 Southgate; Benjamin Franklin, 700 Stewart avenue; Christopher Columbus, Christopher Court; Colma K-6, Hillside and Market; Colma Upper, 601 Market;

The show is one of the activities being held in connection with the Golden Anniversary Celebration. More than 150 auxiliaries of Children's Home Society throughout California are engaged in activities which support the society's adoption program. Contributions from more than 30,000 members, adoption fees and allocations from United Crusade are other means of financing the society's services.

UC Pastor To Speak At Broadmoor Church

Guest speaker for Sunday's service at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, which will begin at 10 a.m., will be the Rev. John John S. Hadsell, university pastor at the University of California.

Dr. Hadsell has his headquarters at Westminster House on campus. Previous to this position, he held down a similar position at San Francisco State College. He is a graduate of the Presbyterian San Francisco Theological Seminary and Columbia University.

Dr. Hadsell's topic will be, "Man's Knowledge of God." Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie is local pastor.

Fairmont

for those same three cities. In reply to this statement, Mayor Gerry Schumacher of Pacifica said that people buying homes in the Fairmont area would have to help pay for what has been done here in the past. "Pacifica has to charge more because it started with less," he told a recent hearing session of the council and Doelger representatives.

SCHOOL SITE STUDIED

Two of the three school sites proposed as gifts to the school district from the Doelger company apparently meet the State requirements as to size but one is in question. One also may involve a pedestrian overpass over Hickey boulevard costing between $20,000 and $25,000, school officials declared. This matter is now under study by Laguna Salada school trustees, Asst. Supt. John Munt, Supt. Fred Lucas and James Osburn of the State School House Planning bureau.

Doelger Engineer Carl Timmons told a meeting of the Pacifica officials last week that he had obtained estimates for turling and planting the green belt areas that were only $3,500 per acre compared with city estimates of $6,500.

Due to the fact that some Pacifica city officials will be on vacation the last week in August and first week in September, as will Doelger Engineer Timmons, the Pacifica planners set Sept. 13 as the next hearing date. However, a study session may be held prior to that time, according to Mrs. Jean Fassler, councilwoman.

State Highway Department maps of the proposed lateral freeway connecting Junipero Serra, Skyline Freeway and Coast Highway reveal that Plan B, cutting through part of Daily City at what was to have been Santa Rita avenue, skirts the northwesterly tip of the Fairmont project. Plan A-1, an alternate route, would have cut through a portion of this northwesterly section of Fairmont after underpassing the Skyline Freeway extension. This latter plan would have meant a wide overpass, probably at what is indicated as Gateway drive in Fairmont plans.

Schools Open

The Christopher Columbus School, under the principalship of Robert Abbey, former principal of Garden Village School, will contain grades kindergarten through six, and two special education classes, occupying thirteen classrooms on the opening day of the semester.

School bus schedules will be posted at all schools prior to the opening day of the 1961-62 school year.

Questions concerning attendance areas may be referred to the District Education Center, PL 5-3341.

his car and used it to approach the bank, where they found Nelson just getting his lunch from the seat of his parked car.

TELLER FORCED TO ACT
The slim bandit jammed his gun in Nelson's neck and forced him to precede the bandits into the front of the bank where Nelson told tellers and customers to step away from alarm buttons and lie on the floor.

The short, stocky bandit with the sawed-off shotgun took a post by the door and covered the interior of the bank with his threatening weapon while the other scooped up the cash.

Leaving the bank, the bandits hopped into Hartauer's car and drove to a super-market parking lot in Millbrae, where they abandoned the hijacked auto and obviously took another escape, according to Undersheriff Wesley Pomeroy and Captain John O'Brien of the San Mateo County Sheriff's office. Hartauer pried his way out of the trunk and called the sheriff's office.

EVERYTHING FOR THE KIDS AT STATE FAIR

Lots of clowns, two circuses, the West's biggest carnival and dozens of novelty acts will be featured for kids at the California State Fair in Sacramento, August 30 through September 10.

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

More children's programs than ever before in network TV history—increase of 60% over 1960 season of color broadcasts—increase of 17% over last season's news and information programs—these are the highlights of NBC's fall program.

Bouquets to the network for the increase in quality programming for children. Among the outstanding new programs scheduled is "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color" which will premiere on September 24. The programs will range from nature stories to animated cartoons—classic adventure tales to musical extravaganzas. For the small fry there is a five-program lineup (three in color) scheduled for Saturday morning viewing. Designed especially for high school and junior high school students a new weekly television news program "Update" premieres on September 16. Scheduled for October 8 debut is a new Sunday educational entertainment show "1, 2, 3—GO!" with America's astronaut program as principal subject of series' premiere broadcast.

Presenting a new concept of television news "David Brinkley's Journal" will premiere in October and will be telecast in color. Also new on the fall news schedule is "Frank McGee's Here and Now" which will debut on September 29. Returning for the new season are such outstanding public affairs series as "NBC White Paper," "The Nation's Future" and "Project 20."

On the entertainment side of television a new series "International Showtime" (premiere Sept. 15) will present programs which were taped in Equore before live audiences. "Du Pont Show of the Week" will combine enlightenment with entertainment in a new series which will debut on Sept. 17. Many of the old favorites will be back such as "Dinah Shore Show," "Perry Como," "Bell Telephone Hour," "Sing Along With Mitch," but there will be changes in time so be sure to consult your TV logs.

Another new addition to NBC's schedule will be "Saturday Night at the Movies" with many features uncut and in color. Certainly this is intelligent programming on the part of the network because Saturday night finds many viewers in the frame of mind to relax and enjoy a movie.

The latest news on colorcasts is that the network plans a total of 1600 hours or more during the coming 1961-62 season. This is quite a contrast to 1954 when they presented 68 hours of color.

Altogether we think the coming season should be a well-balanced schedule with programs of interest to everyone. Again we remind you—if you enjoy the programs be sure to drop a card to NBC and the sponsors because your opinion does carry weight.

Motorists often make a wrong decision by choosing a right lane for a left turn. The decision is equally "wrong" when attempting to turn right from a left lane. The Institute for Safer Living advises working your way into the proper lane well ahead of an intersection where you plan to turn—right lanes for right turns, left lanes for turning left.

WESTMOOR'S adult evening school's art class utilizes live models, as shown above. Instructor Tony Delap of the California School of Fine Arts heads the class. More than 400 persons will take an art class this semester, school officials say.

Elementary Summer School Session Is Rated Big Success

A tremendous forward stride in the summer school program of the Jefferson Elementary School District was disclosed in the report of Dr. Vinton Stratton, assistant superintendent and director of curriculum, released to the public this week.

Dr. Stratton's report disclosed that the summer session program was the largest ever attempted locally and that, according to evaluations of parents and students, it was the most successful in the district's history.

Six of the district's schools were utilized during the summer months in comparison with only two used the previous year. The program was evaluated by parents and students in attendance in a 72 per cent return of 1,352 forms sent out to parents. This return, considered excellent, gave the staff a meaningful gauge of parental opinions concerning the worth of the program, Dr. Stratton pointed out.

HIGHLY SATISFIED
"Of all the parents who responded to the evaluation form sent them, 98% indicated satisfaction with the program, the most frequently used adjectives being "beneficial," "wonderful," "well-planned," "excellent," and "interesting," the report sets forth.

"Enthusiasm was expressed by parents for all courses offered, especially homemaking, shop, speed reading, creative writing, and arts and crafts," it said.

Student responses, as might be expected, paralleled those of their parents in their general feelings about summer school. Different favorites evidenced themselves, of course, in the returns from students enrolled in the three different types of programs offered: (1) the four-hour enrichment program which offered a wide variety of courses, (2) the three-hour development program which contained basic reading, writing, and arithmetic, and (3) the combination of the basic developmental program plus one period chosen from the enrichment courses.

Students in the enrichment program favored arts and crafts, homemaking, creative writing, shop, astronomy, speed reading, mammals, mathematics, and music, in that order. Those enrolled in the basic developmental program voted arithmetic and reading as even favorites, with spelling and writing following in preference.

The students registered in those schools where it was possible to combine the three-hour reading, writing and arithmetic program with an additional course chosen from the enrichment offerings responded somewhat differently from either of the other two groups. They named as their best-liked courses, in order of preference, arts and crafts, shop, speed reading, homemaking, mathematics, astronomy and mammals.

MANY STUDENTS STUCK
The twenty-eight day summer school session started with 1,367 pupils drawn from both public and parochial schools, and concluded with 1,007, 85% of the drop-outs being due to conflicting family vacations, 7% to illness, and 8% to other reasons.

Of the children in this year's summer school program, 21% reported that they had also attended last year's program. Interestingly, three out of four children stated they themselves chose to attend summer school, whereas the remaining one-fourth felt they were forced to attend by their parents.

At the last meeting of the board of trustees, the district was commended by several parents in the audience for the excellence of the summer program.

In soliciting evaluations from parents and students, Bob Abbey, Summer School principal, and Eugene Camous, vice principal, also requested suggestions for improvement. These suggestions are to be taken into consideration by the board of trustees and the district's staff in planning for future summer schools, Dr. Stratton's report concluded.

New $1 Million Sharp Park Center Is Given Preliminary Okay

Grading for the foundations of Eureka Square, a new shopping center to be constructed in Sharp Park, is expected to start by October 1 if the Pacific Planning Commission continues its preliminary approval given the project this week.

The commission put its okay on the general master plan for the center to be erected south of the present Sharp Park shopping center. The $1,000,000 center will provide store and office space for firms which will have to abandon the present center due to freeway extensions. An adjacent apartment development is part of the new plan.

Gordon Hanson, superintendent of Oddstad Homes, the firm which will build the new center, said he must have the structure completed by March 1, next year. A market and savings concern have announced they will move in.

City Attorney Heads Post In United Crusade

City Attorney Paul M. Hupf will head up the North County Business division campaign for the United Crusade of San Mateo County, according to Emery L. Fields, business division chairman.

The business division of the Crusade is responsible for organizing a campaign for business houses of ten or less employees and has a county wide goal of $23,245. Fields said that the business campaign will be organized in the north, central and south county areas on a community basis with volunteer groups from member agencies being responsible for specific neighborhoods whenever possible. Hupf will organize cam-

Supervisors Cut County Tax Rate By Over 15 Cents

Daly City taxpayers, as well as other taxpayers of the county, received their Christmas present from the County Board of Supervisors early this year when the five man board recently adopted a new tax rate for the 1961-62 year of $1.62.12 for each $100 assessed valuation, a cut of 15.88 cents, over the old rate of $1.78 per $100.

Most of the reduction was made possible by the county-wide retail sales tax that went into effect last January 1. A 12.8-cent rate for capital construction included in last year's budget was completely eliminated this year. Supervisors will use sales tax revenues for capital works.

According to Controller Ira A. Boynton, the rate for the county library will be up by nearly two per cent, and a new county-wide levy for schools will be included on all tax bills this year.

Supervisors boosted the library tax from 13.8 cents to 15.65 cents. The rate however, applies only to the county library district, which includes the entire county with the exception of Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Hillsborough, San Mateo, Burlingame and Redwood City.

This year for the first time, a seven-cent tax is being levied on a county-wide basis to make up losses suffered in the 23 school districts under a state allocation board. Previously, these losses were made up by special tax levies within the individual districts concerned.

Gold Jubilee Breakfasters Hear Reports

There are only 46 days left to opening day of the Daly City Golden Anniversary celebration October 7 through the 14th and the committee in charge of parade arrangements has already received 80 entries. Executive Chairman Frank Pacelli told a committee breakfast meeting Tuesday morning at Westlake Bowl.

We are going forward in big style, Pacelli said. All committee report progress and should have everything in readiness in good time for the start of festivities.

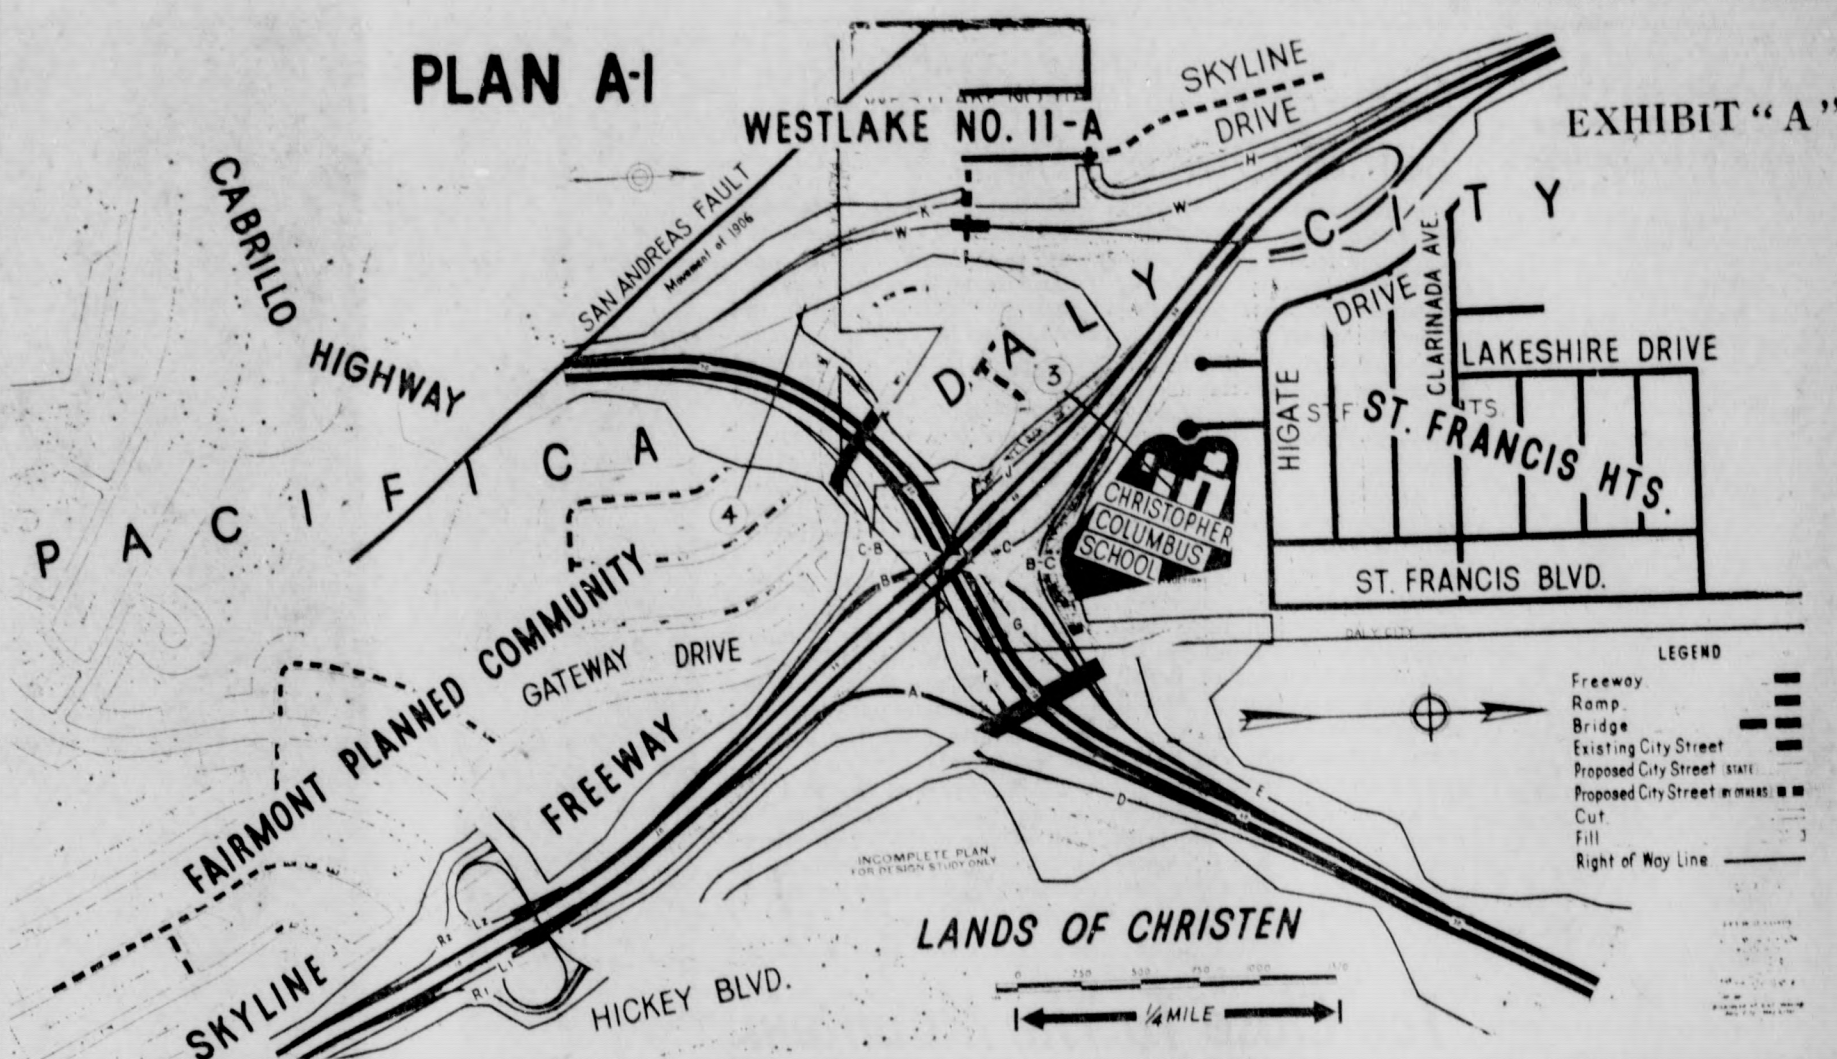

Pacelli also reported that instead of the beard growing contest being called off, as had been indicated earlier, another hirsute event is planned — a moustache growing contest.

Various chairmen at the head of a number of committees also made general reports on the progress of the work of their committees and plans for the civic banquet honoring past mayors and councilmen were reported on. This event will be held September 30 with Superior Judge Frank Blum of San Mateo county superior court as master of ceremonies.

ALTERNATIVE LATERAL
Freeway Plan A-1 (exhibit A), from files of State Highway Department engineers, clearly shows the alternative route to the one through the Westlake Knolls residential area shown on the map of Plan B published in last week's Westlake Times and Daly City Record. If this route had been decided upon favorably by the highway commission, the proposed freeway would have cut across the northern portion of the Fairmont Planned Community which Henry Doelger has projected in northern Pacifica, adjacent to and partially in Daly City. The map discloses that a portion of the Fairmont Planned Community lies within the Daly City boundaries, southwesterly from the new Christopher Columbus School and west of the Skyline Freeway extension. If parents of the West of Skyline residential area, some of those of Westlake Knolls and some school officials have their way the matter of the freeway's location would be opened up again for further hearings by the California Highway Commission. If it should be relocated, as indicated on this map of the alternative plan, it will take a good sized piece of ground out of the Fairmont Shopping Center planned by

Doelger. (The lateral freeway connecting Junipero Serra freeway extension and Skyline freeway has a low priority on the State freeway construction program and will probably not be started short of seven to 10 years, highway engineers have stated.)

Important Steps For New Vets Are Told By VA

Former armed forces service men and women, in particular those recently released from active duty, are advised by San Mateo County Veterans Service Officer Floyd D. Granger that there are several important matters to be taken care of within a short time after their return to civilian life.

The time interval varies, according to the laws and the particular matter. It is a good idea to check with his office at the Old Courthouse in Redwood City for counseling and assistance, the service officer suggested, whether you are "just out" or have been a civilian for some time. Find out about any veterans benefits you might be in line for, such as insurance, compensation and schooling.

He offers the following check list:

1—Notify your draft board of your release from active duty, and give the board your current address. This should be done within five days after separation.

2—Call at the nearest office of the Armed Forces Reserve to determine whether you still have any reserve service obligations.

3—If you desire reinstatement to your old civilian job, there is a legal right in most cases. But you generally must advise your former employer of your availability within 90 days.

4—If you are looking for a new job, register at once with the local State Department of Employment office. Your service should entitle you to unemployment compensation if you have trouble getting a job.

5—Check your separation papers to be sure they are accurate in every detail. If you find any errors or omissions, have your branch of service correct and/or add to the papers immediately.

6—Record your separation

State Gas Taxes Rise 3 Percent For Fiscal Year

State taxes on gasoline, diesel fuel and liquefied petroleum gases, and on the gross receipts of buses and trucks produced a record gross total of $381,833,000, in the 1960-61 fiscal year, it was announced by George R. Reilly, first district member of the State Board of Equalization.

He noted that these revenues were $11,000,000 or 3.0 percent greater than those of the prior year and more than double the total of a decade ago.

Reilly said that the revenue from these three highway-user taxes, except the small amounts withheld to pay for the cost of administration and collection, are put in a special fund and are used exclusively for the construction and maintenance of the State's highways, roads and streets.

The largest part of this revenue — 91 percent — was derived from the State's 6-cents-per-gallon tax on gasoline. These collections amounted to $347,668,000. Refunds made by State Controller Alan Cranston on tax-paid gasoline purchased for non-highway use reduced this total to $330,400,000.

In the past fiscal year, the 8,000,000 motor vehicles using California's highways consumed over 5 1/2 billion gallons of fuel, a volume sufficient for more than 90 billion miles of travel. The average motorist is using around 690 gallons of gasoline a year, travels around 10,000 miles annually, and pays the State approximately $42 in gasoline taxes.

VAN OTTEN CASE HEARING DATE SLATED AGAIN

The case of Steven and Barry Van Otten, of Daly City, who along with seven San Francisco youths are accused of terrorizing a Sunset District couple for 15 months, was given its third continuance by Judge Harry J. Neubarth on Tuesday.

At the request of the attorneys, Judge Neubarth continued the hearing to Sept. 14 at 9:30 a.m. for hearing and motion.

One of the most risky ways of demonstrating faith in your fellow man is to change a tire too close to a line of whizzing traffic. The Institute for Safer Living says that many turnpike accidents are recorded as a result of drivers stopping too close to travel lanes. If you stop on a turnpike for any reason, be sure to pull as far to the side as possible. Use an approved signal flare if the stop is at night.

Bureau Warns On Installing Fallout Shelters

The Better Business Bureau of San Mateo County cautions the public against transacting business with any individual or company concerning the installation of fallout shelters unless such individual or company is able to produce a letter from the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization stating that the shelter in question has been reviewed and accepted by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization and provides adequate protection against fallout.

Shelter plans that do not have the seal or signature of a registered engineer or architect attesting to the structural adequacy of the shelter should not be accepted.

Too Close To The Mountain To See It! New Vistas Can Change Beauties Of Garden

By ELNORA COLIN

Once there was a man who worked all his life on the side of a mountain, yet he never really saw the mountain. He would have said he never found the time though he might better have said he never made the time.

Many of us who have chosen gardening as our world, who serve it through our affiliation with garden clubs, are like this man. We become so absorbed with the grass roots we never lift our eyes to behold the far-flung horizons.

Long ago a friend, who was then the president of a local garden club, impressed on me the importance of the long view.

One spring day when I went to visit her, she took me to the garden and I saw that it had been changed drastically.

Conifers and herbaceous bushes had been moved to a distant corner, lilacs that had been blooming near the house for more than a century were putting down roots in a new location.

NEW VISTA OPENED UP I was conscious of an avenue of trees I had never noticed before, stately trees holding their heads high while their curving branches formed a cathedral arch. After a few moments my friend said: "Now we have a vista of a thousand feet."

Lest we become hemmed in by our special interests, lest we lose our vista of a thousand feet, let me outline the long view of the Garden Clubs. It is many faceted. Horticulture and conservation have countless ramifications.

When the Daly City Garden Club was organized in November, 1949, it set forth these purposes: "The exchange of plants and ideas, and the betterment of the community."

Horticulture and conservation activities with their ever-expanding ramifications, always have been of major concern.

Roadside development and beautification through a united effort to keep national and state highways, city streets and public parks places of safety and beauty have been prime objectives. This includes the now famous litterbug campaign.

THERAPY HEALING

Garden centers provide horticultural and floricultural services to members and non-members alike.

Garden therapy is often called "Nature's most healing therapy." It consists of work with the physically and mentally handicapped. It includes work in veterans hospitals, homes and institutions as well as leadership in garden clubs for the blind.

A junior gardener program is designed to instill a sense of protection of birds, animals and plant life.

Garden Club members believe that horticulture stewardship offers the greatest source of satisfaction, the surest path to progress and growth, that it is the keystone to civic betterment, and are dedicated to the preservation of natural resources and the protection of human resources.

Change Of Plans For Yom Kippur At B'nai Israel

The Men's Club of Congregation B'nai Israel announces that their Yom Kippur "Break-Fast" dinner scheduled for Wednesday evening, September 20 right after the blowing of the Shofar, will be held in the social hall of their own Congregation at 67 Los Banos.

This change has been made in order to accommodate more of the members of the Congregation B'nai Israel who live in the immediate vicinity of 67 Los Banos since the 21st of September is a school and working day and it will be to the advantage of the members to have the dinner held in Daly City rather than Rodeph Shalom at Brussels and Sillman streets.

The nine course kosher meal being planned will consist of soup, fish, roast turkey, celery dressing, apple sauce, a green vegetable, chilled mandarin orange, black coffee, tea and after dinner mints.

The chairman of the religious committee, Paul Lichtman wishes to remind all members that registration for Sunday school and Hebrew school will take place on September 10 at the Temple Office, 67 Los Banos. All new members must be there in person to register their children. The old members will receive in the mail with their Congregation B'nai Israel journal a registration blank of which they can avail themselves. It is important in either case that the children be registered on or before Sunday, September 20.

Garden Season Starts In The Fall; Time For Planting And Preparation

In many respects, the garden year starts in fall—a season of busy planting and preparation. It builds up to a crescendo of color in late spring and early summer, then starts downhill.

If your garden has that "late-summer look," there are things you can do to perk it up a bit. You won't achieve any overnight return to the glory of spring, but any improvement is likely to be appreciated.

Lawns are usually candidates for some attention right now. Summer drought combined with vacation neglect has probably taken a toll. The constant trampling of children's feet may have added to the run-down effect.

Start by raking the lawn vigorously, mowing and trimming it. Then give it a liberal helping of food. Results after such a treatment are often startling, and with a well-groomed lawn, half the battle is won.

Next, turn your attention to weeds. These seem to operate on exactly the opposite principle from our favorite flowers. The more you neglect them, the more they thrive. Clear out these stubborn trouble-makers as well as fading annuals and replace them with ready-to-bloom bedding plants.

California Assn. of Nurseries men nurseries are fairly abundant in bedding plants that are either in bloom or about to enter that stage. Colorful Dwarf Marigolds and Petunias are available. Those blue pin cushions, indeed, they seem to be in a year-round basis. Others will catch your eye when you visit the nursery.

Your biggest splash of color will come from various container-grown plants that have been brought to bloom by the nurseryman. Chrysanthemums can be bought in full bloom to give you a head start on the regular autumn season. Tuberous Begonias are still around and going strong. Fuchsias are entering one of their better periods of bloom. The nice thing about any of them is that it takes relatively few to brighten things up in a hurry.

Savage's Murder Attempt Hearing Set For Sept. 7

Willie Savage, 32, 142 Byxbee St., San Francisco, who allegedly attempted to shoot his wife, Eugenia, 40, in her sister's home in Daly City, will come before Municipal Judge Charles Becker for preliminary hearing on an attempted murder charge Sept. 7.

Savage, presently free on bond of $5,250 after pleading not guilty when he was arraigned August 24, will appear in the Northern Judicial District court in Redwood City.

Police reports at the time of the shooting, August 21, charged that Savage went to the home of Inez and Cory Patton, 317 San Diego Ave., Daly City, and attempted to shoot his wife with a .38 calibre revolver.

The revolver's firing pin struck a dud cartridge or empty chamber and before he could fire again Patton, a visitor, Edward Sheffield, also of San Francisco, grabbed Savage in an attempt to wrest the gun away from him. In the ensuing struggle a shot was fired which lodged in the ceiling.

Savage fled from the home of his wife's sister with the gun still in his possession and was arrested a few hours later at his own home.

Majorette Of Flaming Baton To Sociological Studies—Marilyn's Plan For Future

From a high stepping high school majorette to the study of sociology and thence a career as a woman probation officer dedicated to help growing teen-agers may seem rather long steps to some readers.

But, to Marilyn Mudrick, 16-year-old majorette and '61 junior at Westmoor High school, such a course appears to be a mere logical progression of her studies so far in her brief span of life.

Marilyn, who recently attended the "Holiday for Twirlers" at Sun Valley, Idaho, is back in Daly City now. She is preparing for the first fall appearance of the Westmoor majorette sextette at the Westmoor-Jefferson football game which will be televised.

Attended Twirlers Classes "I feel that I learned a great deal at the 'Holiday for Twirlers' at Sun Valley, Idaho," Marilyn said. "We had classes of instruction in baton twirling and strutting, gestures and so on and then there were classes for individual contest hopefuls."

Marilyn started baton twirling in her sophomore year at Westmoor High. She is now the veteran of the school's sextette of twirlers and hopes that she'll be able to help her teammates with some of the pointers she picked up at Sun Valley.

"There were more than 100 twirlers from all over the west in attendance," she stated. "Yet California was represented by only two girls, Cookie Martin of Concord and myself."

In an interview Marilyn impresses one with her sincerity which does not in the least detract from the sparkle of laughter and interest expressed in her lovely grey eyes. She's a very attractive young lady with a down to earth, goodly measure of intelligence.

"I went out for majorette because I thought it would be fun and that I could be doing something for my school at the same time," Marilyn laughingly remarked.

She plans to attend Santa Barbara State college when she graduates from Westmoor. Her eyes become thoughtful and her gaze on the intense side when she speaks of "helping teen-agers" as a probation officer.

Forces Interesting Future "I feel that it would be great to work with juvenile problems," she stated with considerable emphasis. "It's something to do with law enforcement but the important part is it would give one a chance to be of help to growing youngsters. Boys and girls of the future just about the same ages as are my friends and myself right now."

Marilyn is one of the six majorettes at Westmoor who will not only be featured at football games and other events, but also will be featured in the Golden Jubilee parade in Daly City. Marilyn will also star in the Music Festival to be staged next May by the music department of Westmoor high, according to Howard Loeffler, Westmoor music department head.

Marilyn made a study of and received expert instruction in the "flaming baton" act while at Sun Valley. Loeffler said. She will be featured in this very difficult and unusual performance of baton twirling art at the Spring Music Festival and other civic events, Loeffler said.

The other majorettes, all of them new to the intricate game, are sophomores at Westmoor high this fall. They are three Katherines, Kathy Bertalloni, Kathy Barile and Cathy Barile, and Janis Williams and Denise Jamin.

MARILYN MUDRICK, flaming baton star of Westmoor High's majorette sextette, has just returned from Sun Valley where she attended the classes of the "Holiday for Twirlers" staged at Sun Valley lodge. Here she is seen in an attractive costume, she designed and made herself, on the shore of the lake in the Village Square of the mile high resort. (Sun Valley News Bureau Photo).

Compulsory Polio Immunization Of All Students

The new law requiring compulsory immunization of elementary and secondary school pupils against poliomyelitis is effective September 15, but it will not be operative until the State Board of Health enacts the required regulations, ruled Attorney General Stanley Mosk recently.

The law provides for the compulsory shots to be administered prior to "admission." "Admission" means the date of enrollment and acceptance of the qualifications of the pupil. The law will apply only with respect to admissions occurring after the regulations become effective.

The Attorney General stated that the word "immunization" means producing "evidence of at least one shot prior to enrollment and the diligent completion of the required series of shots as prescribed by regulations after enrollment."

The law does not apply to pre-school age children but does include kindergarten pupils and children and adults attending elementary or secondary classes, including evening classes.

PAL Red Sox Win Crown; More Division Winners

Young horsehiders are swatting 'em left and right, and fast and furious in the summer baseball leagues as the season heads toward the home stretch. Following are the latest scores in the various divisions:

WESTLAKE MIDGETS
PAL Red Sox took the crown in the Westlake Division with their big win over the PAL Yankees, 12-3. Joe Cardoza allowed the Yankee batters three hits. Allen Stanley collected two of these. Val Sabuco and Larry Black were the plate stars for the Red Sox, Sabuco 3 for 3 and Black 3 for 4. Scott Ghiladucci played a great defensive game, robbing the Yankees of many extra base hits.

Toto's midgets look like they have a foothold on second place. Their 3-1 record can only be contested by the Misracks Cardinals whom they tied, 7-7, this week. The Cardinals have a 2-1 record. The tie game will be replayed this week. Toto's collected 13 hits to the Cardinals' 6. If they can come up with a better defensive effort, they should take the Cardinals.

MARCHBANKS MIDGETS
Parkmerced's Phil Rapoport led his team to the crown in the Marchbank's Division. Rapoport's pitching talent turned a weak team in the first round into a championship club. To nail down the title, he struck out 16 batters and gave up two hits against the BYA as his club downed them, 6-0. Contreras of the Blazers put on an outstanding performance for his team but to no avail. Lee Dammer helped Parkmerced's cause with 2 for 4 at the plate. This win gave Parkmerced a 5-0 record.

The BYA Art Colvin Dodgers came up with a 3-1 record this week to claim a hold on second place. They pulled one out of the fire this time. Steve Noffsinger of BYA Relish Bakery Midgets pitched a no-hitter against the Dodgers only to see it go down the drain via four Bakery errors. The Dodgers took advantage of these errors to score three runs. Final score BYA Colvin Dodgers 3, BYA Relish Bakery, 0.

The PAL Indians have a chance to tie the Dodgers for second place. Should they lose to the BYA Blazers and the Indians down Relish Bakery, both teams would have to play off for second place. The Indians took the BYA Little Giants over the hurdles this week as they downed them, 7-1, on the mound. R. Punge had the Little Giants fanning the breeze as he allowed them only two hits. T. Belvin, D. Elwick and Punge slammed out the Indians' six hits, two apiece.

COLMA MIDGETS
Misracks Cubs jumped into the lead this week with wins over OLPH and the Daly City Orioles. Previously undefeated OLPH fell victim to the pitching of Bob Hilsendager. Hilsendager spread three hits over the OLPH lineup while the Cubs collected 13. Ed Schweitzer was big man with the bat as he bopped out 4 for 4. Other outstanding Misracks batters were Hilsendager, 3 for 4, and Jerry Nerducci, 2 for 4. Final score: Misracks Cubs 8, OLPH 5.

Later in the week the Cubs took the Daly City Orioles over the rough road. The bat of Ed Schweitzer collected 4 for 5, with Ray Mathis matching his feat as they defeated the Orioles.

WESTERN DIVISION JRS.
Misracks Jrs. clinched first place this week with a win over Art Colvin BYA Jrs., 7-2. Eddie Simmons smashed a triple with a full house to ice the game. Art Colvin's scoring threat in the last inning was broken up when, with bases loaded, Budeda fielded a ball, rifled it to Dave Daconte on second, who relayed it to Craig Hughes on first for a double play that retired the side.

BYA Falcons scored a clean one over Skyline Plaza Merchants, 7-6. Hernberg of the Falcons allowed only two hits while Randy of the Merchants gave up three.

EASTERN DIVISION JRS.
After a period of inactivity, D & S Lumber, first round champions, started to make up games in the second round. They did so at the expense of South Sunset. They played on August 22 and 26 and in both games South Sunset could only collect four hits, two in each. Andrade held them for two

It's SPARE TIME

at Westlake Bowl

By JIM GREALISH

Twenty-seven ladies from The Bagdad Bowl journeyed to Westlake last Wednesday to compete in the Aid Retarded Children Tournament with Phyllis Hill taking the special prize with a 604 series. Ann Osterlow stole the show by converting the 6-7 split. At the conclusion of the second week of play over 130 bowlers have qualified for a spot on the prize list.

Rich Gershenoff with 699 and Gil Gonzales with 668 led the six Westlake men qualifiers while Pat Nurney and Audrey Peirano both shot over 600 to qualify in the ladies division. To date 14 Westlake Bowlers have qualified with a new round starting each Monday.

With over 2500 bowlers registered for the winter season, Primo Liberator reports that most of the leagues will start play during the week of September 4. There are limited openings in some of the leagues. Information concerning these may be obtained by calling Primo at PL 6-5777.

Vic Chao led The Evening Stars Mixed League with his 236 game while Marie Dieterle led the ladies with a 180 game.

Merv Hauglin credits his improved scores to the help of Dick Truesdell, Westlake's certified instructor.

The School Street Grocery team in Thursday's Mixed Fives League held the lead throughout the league but almost lost it in the last game of the last night. Verle Dillon of the opposing team struck out for a 191 game to add to the pressure on School Street anchor man Bill Jost, but he was up to the task as he struck out to win the game and the league 821-806. Other members of the winning team were Millie and Bill Belli, Joan Gislser and Frank Romano.

Two was the magic number

A student from the schools playing will be at the microphone during each game, to assist in the game and half-time narration.

In addition to the actual play-by-play action of the games, special emphasis will be placed on acquainting the public with the individual school's achievements and credits to the community.

Featured at various times will be the choir, glee clubs, bands, science fairs, are exhibits and other non-athletic distinctions.

Restrooms Or Old Style Whitewings For Pacifica Nags

As long as it appears to be a very remote possibility that restrooms could ever be provided for the horses of Linda Mar it may be within the realm of probability that a white-wing may have to be provided in that segment of Pacifica.

A white-wing? - that's a figure out of America's past, back in the days when horses pulled milk carts, brewery wagons and all sorts of delivery vehicles as well as carriages and traps.

It's a little old man—usually in a white uniform who used to patrol the streets with a huge tin can on two wheels, and he employed a dustpan like scoop shovel and a big broom to tidy up after four-legged beasts of burden.

Mrs. Del Austin, Linda Mar mother and housewife, says the steeds of equestrians leaves the streets of Linda Mar a mess. "Linda Mar boulevard and Rosita road look and smell like a horse corral. I've complained to city hall. Why can't the horseback riders use the fine bridle trails of Frontierland instead of the streets?"

Well, Mrs. Austin may prove whether you can fight city hall or not, and disprove that old "saw" that "you can't!"

TIRE CARE

Rubber experts, according to the National Automobile Club, attribute as much as 80 per cent of tire failures to poor care on the owner's part.

We're looking forward to greeting you at the Open House!

THREE GRADUATES of Westmoor High School are now taking nine weeks of recruit training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego. They are (l. to r.): Paul Zingrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Zingrich, 268 Campana avenue; Thomas Sugrue II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sugrue, 296 St. Francis boulevard, and David Follner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Follner, 149 Mariposa avenue. The trio enlisted on the Buddy Program at the Daly City U. S. Recruiting Office, 6705 Mission street, and after completing recruit training they will get 14 days leave before reporting to their next assignment.

The PAL-BYA Tigers of Daly City, a ball club formed of players from both teams, will go into the World Series of the Midget Baseball League pennant battle September 9 at Funston Park No. 1 in San Francisco with eight victories in a row under their belts.

The Tigers defeated the Park Presidio nine five-one over the weekend to clinch the American League title in the Midget Baseball domain. Their opponents, tops in the Nationals, will be Hugh Texaco.

The heavy hitters in the victory over Park Presidio were Bob Banos with three clean hits in four trips to the plate and Grady Proctor, who put the game in the freezer compartment when he slammed out a double in the fourth frame to drive in two runs.

While his team mates were unlimbering their heaviest apple wands on the offerings of the Park Presidio moundsmen the Tigers' pitcher, Ron LaRosa, held the Park Presidio batters to three hits. He also struck out eight batters and walked only one.

In their eight straight win romp the Tigers racked up 128 runs compared to 22 plate crossings for their opponents. They defeated St. Emydius, 17-3; Grattan Falcons, 9-0; Douglas Phillips, 24-2; Bernal Yanks, 20-6; Glen Park Pirates, 6-1; the Parkside Gophers, 24-6, (playoff); Richmond, 23-3, (playoff) and Park Presidio, 5-1.

The strong hitting and steady pitching of the Tigers was the major factor in the local squad winning the league title. The coaching of the Tiger mentors, George Pedroni, Tim Sabuco, Rich Brewer and Bill Proctor, was also a big contributing factor, observers pointed out.

Tie For Top Fremont Awards

Two of the Bay Area's top fuel dragsters tied for top honors at Fremont Drag Strip Sunday when the A/fuel machine of Masters and Richters of San Leandro with Bob Haines driving and the B/fuel dragster owned by S. and S. Automotive of Hayward with Don Blount driving faced down the quarter mile ending in a tie for top eliminator honors with an elapsed time of 8.80 seconds and a top speed of 179.10 seconds.

Second eliminator title was captured by the new gas dragster owned by Bob Bales and Leonard Freitas of Salinas, with an elapsed time of 9.47 seconds and a top speed of 154.57. This was the first time down the track for this new dragster and it shows promise of being a top contender for world records.

Arnolds Chaves from San Jose piloted his A/alterer chrysler to third eliminator money with a top speed of 123.65 and elapsed time of 11.56 seconds.

Jeff High Physicals For Sports, Sept. 7

TEACHING JOHNNY TO SWIM SERIES ONE

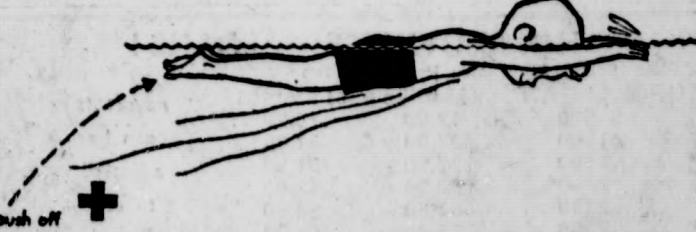

Johnny can be taught to swim more readily if you select one of his friends to learn along with him. Many of the steps can be accomplished more easily when two youngsters work together.

Getting Johnny and Jimmy accustomed to the water is the first step. Fill a receptacle with water at home and have the boys put their faces in often enough so that they can hold their breaths and stay in 15 or 20 seconds; then practice exhaling under water and inhaling when the face is out.

In chest-deep water, Johnny and Jimmy practice breathing by doing the see-saw. Facing each other and with hands clasped, first one and then the other takes a breath, goes below the surface for two or three seconds. This continues in a rhythmical pattern.

Johnny practices the "saw" or prone glide as it is technically termed. In waist-deep water he leans forward with arms extended and hands together until his shoulders are below the surface. Taking a breath, he places his head in the water and pushes forward.
